Soldiers From B.T.C. 23 Give Big Lift To District Farmers Bringing In The Sheaves

The 1943 grain crop, such as it is, will be under cover in another week. Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn stated this week.

Men in khaki from B.T.C. 23 have taken the northern York harvesting honors this year. Practically every night a group of workers has gone out to help. Farmers have picked the men up at the military camp, paid them 25 cents an hour, fed them and taken them back to camp.

Dalton and Neil Faris, a father and son team, completed their harvesting on Saturday, in spite of the fact that Neil had been a casualty since Aug. 5, when he underwent an appendix operation. His father has no other help and so Neil started work again this week, four weeks after his operation.

To get the harvest in, Mr. Faris had the help of a willing and experienced man who was near four score years, Mrs. Faris, and a car-load of soldiers three different nights. The soldiers put Mr. Faris "over the top," and all he has to worry about now is his fall seeding, spring seeding and 1944 harvest.

Mr. Faris found his grain to be of a fairly good quality but the yield light.

Another son, Jim Faris, on a neighboring farm, expects to finish harvesting this week.

Quite a few other farmers have finished or are finishing their harvest this week. Some of them have had quite a boost from western Canada farmers. Tuesday was the last day for the westerners to make use of their return tickets to the west.

District farmers are enthusiastic about the westerners and at least one of the westerners thinks Ontario isn't a bad place. J. A. Olson, working with Eugene Flanagan, Queensville, won a set of dishes at the Lions club carnival.

Some of the westerners would like to stay in Ontario, but they are needed in the west. In fact, they will be followed to the west by quite a few Ontario farmers, Mr. Cockburn said.

A considerable number of applications have reached the Newmarket selective service office from district farmers and farm workers offering to go to the west, but they are not being released until the harvest here is "under control." They are to leave for the west during the first and second weeks in September on regular trains as they receive selective service releases. The return tickets are good for return between Nov. 1 and Nov. 15.

"They helped us and some of our fellows are going to help them," was the comment of Mr. Cockburn on the impending invasion of the west.

Business Leader Expects Increase In Population

SUGGESTS MERCHANTS WORK TOGETHER TO SEE PUBLIC WELL SERVED

Newmarket Business Men's Association is planning a program that should be of benefit to every Newmarket business man, President R. C. Morrison said this week.

The program includes guest speakers who will discuss the business problems of today. Mr. Morrison says that the theme of the association is: "Fight now but prepare for peace."

"We should be prepared for a great increase in population in Newmarket when victory is won and we must have our business section geared to receive these additional citizens," said Mr. Morrison.

"Business men can face their war-time problems more successfully collectively than separately," he commented. "It is the duty of every business man to help see that residents of town and district, as well as the folks passing through, have their requirements properly looked after. This will give visitors a good impression of Newmarket."

Mr. Morrison invited all business men to attend the association meetings held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

WATCH SLOW STARTING FIRE EAT UP HOUSE

A loss estimated at $4,000 to $5,000, partly covered by insurance, was caused by a fire which destroyed the house of Phil. Hamilton, Huron St. and third concession, East Gwillimbury, late yesterday afternoon.

The fire started about 5 o'clock in the summer kitchen, where there had been a fire in the stove at noon. Carpenters working at Chas. Hunt's saw the fire and gave the alarm. The fire burned till 9 p.m.

Mr. Hamilton had gone through the house, leaving the service station keys there, and out through the summer kitchen to get the cows about quarter to five but had seen no sign of fire.

The cistern was so close to the burning kitchen that the men from Hunt's farm and neighbors were unable to get water to put out the fire, which slowly ate up the summer kitchen and then destroyed the entire house.

The men who had gathered took the furniture out of the downstairs, but much of the contents, including the civilian clothes of two sons in the armed forces, was destroyed. The value of contents destroyed was estimated at $1,000 to $1,500.

Mrs. Hamilton was attending a meeting of the Sharon Women's Institute at the time of the fire. Following the fire Mrs. Hamilton spent the night at the home of Reeve and Mrs. Stanley Osborne. Mr. Hamilton stayed at the service station.

Mrs. Hamilton had been keeping summer visitors and was expecting another group in a few days.

After the fire was discovered, some efforts were made to get the Newmarket fire brigade but the right contacts were not made apparently and the brigade did not go.

It was said that if the brigade had answered the call, they might have been able to save the house.

"Our brigade has gone to many fires outside the town and given a lot of help," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales today. "It is unfortunate that we can't give more help, but we must consider the protection of our own citizens."

"Usually at outside fires the water supply is limited and the brigade cannot do much. Some day I hope that Lake Simcoe water will be piped down through this district, so that all farms and municipalities will have lots of water."

"At the present time there is no arrangement with neighboring municipalities to give them fire protection. Our council is always ready to discuss any proposal with our neighbors. I think that the only workable arrangement would be to have the neighboring municipalities help us purchase and keep up a second fire truck, so that town people would not be left unprotected."

Member Of Bomber Crew, Bill VanZant Is Missing Overseas

Newmarket Boy, Softball Player, Missing, Is Youngest Member Of Family Of Seven

Fit-Sgt. William VanZant of Newmarket was reported missing on Monday after aerial operations overseas. He was a mid-gunner on a bomber.

"Bill" VanZant is a well-known Newmarket softball player. Born in Elora, 24 years ago next month, he came to Newmarket with his family in 1925, and lived here until his enlistment in the R.C.A.F. over two years ago. He went overseas last October and had seen quite a bit of action. On one occasion, when his bomber returned much the worse for flak, he had a bullet whiz past his head.

More recently, according to a letter received from his brother, Cpl. Henry VanZant, who is also with the R.C.A.F. overseas, Bill was "out of the fray" for a while, apparently as a result of a bomber trip to the continent.

A letter last week told of his promotion to flight-sergeant. Bill VanZant's family received a letter from him today telling of a leave last month spent with his brother, Henry. They covered a lot of ground, including London, during their leave.

Son of Ross VanZant, Collingwood, Ft.-Sgt. William VanZant is the youngest of a family of seven. His brothers and sisters are: Chas. VanZant, well-known Newmarket ball-player, Mrs. Melvin Ruddock (Kathleen), Newmarket, Cpl. Henry VanZant, R.C.A.F. overseas, Margaret VanZant, Newmarket, of The Era and Express staff, Mrs. Joseph Pollock (Claire), Newmarket, whose husband is LAC Joseph Pollock, Fingal, and Jack VanZant, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., a fireman on a Great Lakes freighter.

Over 5,000 Ration Books Are Issued In Four Days

U.S. LADY PICKS NEWMARKET AS BIGGEST PLACE ON ROUTE

Over 5,000 food ration books were distributed in Newmarket last weekend, stated J. R. Greer, who was in charge of arrangements.

"A few minutes after we opened our first booth at the Alexander Muir school, with Norman Rogers in charge, our first applicant, a lady from the United States came in," Mr. Greer related. "She produced, instead of a ration-book, a card which the immigration authorities had given her. She and her party had studied the matter and decided that Newmarket was 'the biggest place' that they would be going through and that she would get her ration-book here."

Mr. Rogers had to direct her back to the ration office at Aurora. "She couldn't have been looking at the town when she passed through Aurora," was the amused comment of the chief ration officer, A. C. A. Willis, Aurora town clerk, when he heard about the "biggest place."

"We had many offers of help and the help we had was very efficient," Mr. Greer said. Mr. Greer is holding a few books for a week or so for the convenience of anyone who neglected to apply for books last weekend. Mr. Greer can be contacted at his home (telephone 329) or through the town clerk's office.

Those who gave out the books were: King George school, H. A. Jackson, in charge, Mrs. Wesley Brooks, Mrs. J. R. Greer, Mrs. Douglas Gilmour, Mrs. Herb Gilmour, Miss Margaret Conley, Miss Bertie Neilly, W. K. Howard, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Allan Cady, Mrs. C. E. Hosiato, Miss Jean Robertson, Mrs. H. A. Jackson.

HELP FOR AGRICULTURE

The Drew government is planning a farm conference in September to discuss a system of county agricultural boards, to make farming more efficient and to advance farm interests. Col. T. L. Kennedy, the minister of agriculture, will preside, and Premier Drew will tell the conference about the county agricultural committees in Britain. The British committees are war-time committees with power to take over inefficiently operated farms, but of course nothing drastic of that sort is contemplated in Canada.

As the plan unfolds it will undoubtedly reveal worth-while objectives, but until then we will wonder what the government will be able to accomplish through the county committees that it would not be able to accomplish through the Federation of Agriculture, to advance the farm viewpoint, and through the agricultural representatives, to make farming more efficient. If there is money to spend to help agriculture, put a Federation of Agriculture organizer in every county for a year or two and after that the Federation of Agriculture won't need any help. If there is money to spend to make agriculture more efficient, put one or two more field assistants in every county agricultural representative's office, and watch production per acre increase.

Our impression is that Premier Drew has made a closer study of British agriculture than he has of Ontario agriculture. We feel that he isn't fully aware of what splendid work is already being done in Ontario, and what splendid agencies farmers already have in the Federation of Agriculture and the agricultural representatives or he would put his energy, enthusiasm and money into what already exists instead of creating new and competing organizations.

It is rather unfortunate for rural Ontario that Premier Drew didn't remain a rural representative instead of moving to an urban seat. However, we have no doubt that Premier Drew intends to help the farmer and he will help him whether the farmer likes it or not.

WE'RE NOT PROPAGANDISTS

British and United States leaders are not good propagandists. They do not use words effectively to defeat the enemy. Apparently they do not believe in taking unfair advantage of the enemy by making his civilian population think that it would be advantageous to surrender. They huff and they puff but they do not blow the house in as fast as they would if they took a page out of Woodrow Wilson's book. President Roosevelt is reported as having said that the "outlaw" nations must be kept under heel for 100 years and Herbert Morrison, British home secretary, says that Britain must "sit on the head" of any German government for "even 100 years to make sure there will be no war."

Mr. Morrison advocated an international police force and a new league of nations. It would seem that if a league of nations were going to have any chance of success at all, it would have to have exclusive control over the job of watching for German or any other kind of aggression, and that it would have to operate in a world in which all nations were comparatively disarmed. If Britain, Russia, the United States and Canada are all to remain armed powers, as is from time to time predicted, there will be no room for a league of nations. They will not remain armed, we are confident. These countries are not going to tax themselves to pay for huge armaments, when all nations might be sharing the cost of a joint police force. Besides, experience has shown that the allies in one war may become opponents in the next and that no alliance of powers lasts indefinitely. Now is the time to build on lasting foundations an organization that talks effectively even to Russia, Britain or the United States.

DREW MAKES GOOD START

Surprise about the new Ontario cabinet is that W. J. Stewart, former mayor of Toronto, is not in it. It must indeed be a strong cabinet if Mr. Stewart is not needed, for Mr. Stewart not only has proven ability but also experience in public administration. Premier Drew may be saving Mr. Stewart for some other job, or there may be some lack of good will between Mr. Stewart and Mr. Drew that would make Mr. Stewart's inclusion undesirable.

Leaving St. Clair Gordon at his post as liquor control board chairman is no doubt good political strategy, for presumably it would give the government Mr. Gordon's vote in the house, and every vote counts. It will hardly indicate, however, that there is likely to be any change in liquor administration, and a change is needed from the present promote-sales attitude to a discourage-sales attitude. The liquor control board should undertake a campaign to bring about a voluntary decrease in the consumption of liquor, but Mr. Drew is going to need liquor revenue to carry out his promises just as Mr. Hepburn needed it. Transfer of responsibility for the liquor control board from the provincial treasurer (the treasurer was formerly the chairman of the liquor control board) sounds like an improvement, but it isn't convincing.

Our guess is that there will be no change in liquor policy. Nor will there be any stiffening of the Queen's Park attitude toward widespread gambling. The premier "drew" from the hat last week the winning ticket on a $17,000 bungalow. The proceeds were for war purposes, and a needy workman won the bungalow. "The end justifies the means."

Mr. Drew has made a good start in cancelling the forest contracts of companies which had not fulfilled their agreements to build mills and create employment. Many people will be wary of his socialistic plan to create a forest resources development or conservation commission. It smacks too much of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, a public ownership venture which has saved the people of Ontario millions of dollars and given many people electric service that they could not otherwise have afforded. If we do not watch out, Mr. Drew will be taking over our mines, and developing them too to the profit of the public treasury.

Joking aside, we think Mr. Drew and his cabinet, which includes several comparatively young men, should do a good job for Ontario. He should not have much difficulty in securing the necessary support in the legislature. What the Liberals cannot support the C.C.F. should be able to support, and what the C.C.F. cannot support the Liberals should support. The danger lies in some proposal which Liberals or C.C.F. might make with the support of the other out-of-office group. Such a proposal Mr. Drew would have to accept or oppose and be defeated in the house. That would mean a loss of prestige, but should not be taken as a vote of want of confidence until a formal vote to that effect were put to the house and carried.

It will also be interesting to see how Mr. Drew secures a vote adopting the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Such a vote will be blanket approval for the Drew program, and yet such a vote is quite likely to carry. We fancy that the Liberals will either absent themselves from the house for this vote or else save face with a carefully drafted preliminary amendment that the C.C.F. will not be able to support.

FEDERAL CONJECTURES

What will happen to the King government when election time comes around? Will the water be cold when it puts out to sea? Mr. King once lost a general election, and another time he didn't win one, but he is in the habit of winning. Never before has he had to bring a country through a war, however, and he knows the usual fate of war-time governments. He owed his own first general election success to the declining fortunes of a war-time government.

Mr. King won't go down without fighting, and maybe he won't go down at all. How will he figure it out? Will he be dramatic and retire from the Liberal leadership at the conclusion of the war, and let someone else take the grief? Or will he make a bid for power on a post-war program that will catch the other parties napping? There is the possibility, of course, that Canadian troops might become engaged in a see-saw land battle that would make an excuse for a conscription appeal, but that would mean the loss of Quebec to the Liberal party and is not likely.

Isn't Mr. King more likely to go to bat with a program that will leave the Progressive-Conservatives and the C.C.F. half-clothed? Will he go to the country with a public ownership, social security, public works (about five billion dollars as suggested by the C.C.F.) and soldier and war-worker re-establishment program that would run Liberal popularity back up the public opinion thermometer from third position to top position?

Never before did a Canadian prime minister face two such able opponents as Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Bracken. Mr. Coldwell shines in opposition, and Mr. Bracken has shone in office. But Mr. King, Canada's shrewdest prime minister since Sir John A. Macdonald, won't go down without fighting—and quite possibly he won't go down.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

POST-WAR INDUSTRIES

(Barrie Examiner)

The town council is to be commended for taking steps towards securing industries for Barrie after the war. Asking the co-operation of D. F. McCuaig, M.P., is all right as far as it goes, but interviewing consulates is not likely to be productive of much in the way of results. Ald. Leishman hit the nail on the head when he said: "You've got to go out and sell Barrie to prospective industrialists." If the council is not prepared to spend sufficient money to engage a full-time industrial commissioner, arrangements should be made to have Barrie listed with some man experienced in this line of work, and then provide him with all the data necessary to enable him to make a strong presentation of our case.

The competition for post-war industries is sure to be very keen. And many municipalities will have an advantage in having war buildings and plants adaptable quickly and at lower cost than new construction, which could be made an inducement to an industry seeking a location. Not having any war industries Barrie has none of these to offer. We have other advantages, however and there is good material with which an industrial representative could make out a strong case.

A live board of trade, as Ald. Poucher suggests, would be of great assistance in promoting the interests of Barrie industrially and otherwise. We have two active service clubs in town. Why not seek their co-operation in establishing and pushing a board of trade? Such an organization to function to maximum effect should have behind it the interests and active support of all citizens, offering ideas and energy to put them over.

We hope that the industrial and publicity committee will not rest content with waiting to see what Mr. McCuaig can do for them. In the meantime they should make a start upon exploring the whole situation, with a view to starting upon the most feasible lines as soon as possible.

ELEVEN COME SEVEN

(Orillia Packet and Times)

The town council has decided to give the ratepayers the opportunity to pass on the question of whether there should be a reduction in the membership of the town council. There can be little doubt that a smaller body would greatly simplify the work of administration. Conditions also have changed from the days when the councillors themselves personally supervised the building of roads, the laying of sewers and the purchasing of materials. All that is now done by paid officials. It is the council's duty to lay down policy, to give instructions and to see that these instructions are carried out efficiently and economically.

A further reduction in the council's responsibilities has been brought about by the fact that the public utilities and the parks are now administered by separate bodies. When the council had the power plant and the waterworks to deal with, their task was a heavy one, and when building operations were under way weekly meetings were the rule rather than the exception. The water, light and power commission and the parks board not only have lightened the load on the council, but have made an added call on the citizens willing and in a position to serve the town municipally. As a result, it is often difficult to find 11 suitable candidates for the council.

Altogether, in present circumstances, there seems to be a strong argument in favor of the proposed reduction from 11 to seven members.

LIQUOR PROBLEM

(Orillia Packet and Times)

While the subject was carefully avoided by all three parties in the recent election, one of the most pressing problems that will call for decision on the part of the new government is the policy to be pursued in connection with the liquor traffic. The question to be decided is whether the government of Ontario is to continue to promote the sale of liquor for the sake of the revenue to be derived, or whether a determined effort is to be made to control the traffic to as great an extent as possible and to mitigate its evils. There is a substantial section of public opinion that will watch with interested concern for indications of the attitude of the new administration on this question, and will to a considerable degree judge the government by its actions in this respect. More lip adherence to the principles of "true temperance," of which we have had a superfluity for the past ten years, will not satisfy. Action, not words, will be demanded. In particular as a beginning, there should be a marked reduction in the number of beverage rooms, and these unpleasant neighbors should not be forced on communities that do not desire their presence.

Facilities and encouragement should be afforded to local movements for the entire elimination where public opinion favors this course. In other words, there should be a return to the principle of local option, backed by strong enforcement, which was the traditional Conservative policy in the days of Sir James Whitney.

The scandalous conditions which have been developed since beverage rooms were foisted upon the province have become a menace to law and order in towns and cities where they are established. The revelations of conditions in Toronto shocked the province. General Draper has repeatedly stated that the beverage rooms are a major source of crime and immorality in the capital of the province, under the very nose of the liquor control board. At a recent meeting of the Oshawa city council, one of the aldermen denounced the drunkenness, rowdiness and indecency connected with the beverage rooms in that city, and declared that "something must be done about it." Several of his colleagues agreed, and there was talk of an increase in the police force.

Employers complain of the interference with production arising from sprees that accompany every pay-day. The revenues from the liquor traffic are dearly bought. Similar conditions prevail wherever the beverage rooms exist. In many respects they appear to be worse than the old bars. The provision for seating encourages patrons to make a long stay, leading to increased intoxication and rowdiness. One wonders how sober people endure the noise and atmosphere. While the addition of women's beverage rooms ministers to evils not connected with the bars when men were the only patrons.

There is no department of government administration that calls more urgently for decisive action. And the new government will be further ahead in the long run if they grasp the nettle firmly, instead of temporizing. Again, they would do well to remember and emulate the example set by Sir James Whitney, who raised Conservative prestige to the highest point ever attained in this province.

Says Canada Built On Freedom Of Enterprise

Formerly of Newmarket but now editor and manager of the Tomkinsburg Speaker, New Liskeard, Cecil Bond gave an address recently to a New Liskeard service club on advertising. Advertising, he said, is anything written or spoken that conveys a message or information. "One of the greatest tasks which will confront advertising after the war," said Mr. Bond, "will be the preservation of that principle upon which Canada has been built from the very beginning—free enterprise, which will be charged with the task of again absorbing the hundreds of thousands of our fighting men and women, and war workers, into peace-time operations."

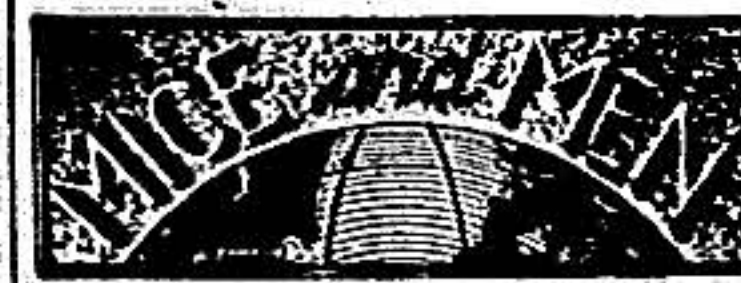

"And when I say free enterprise, I mean just that—free enterprise. A man isn't free if he has one hand tied behind his back and can still work around. A man isn't free if he has one foot in a bear trap and can still use his hands. Enterprise (for business) isn't free if it is tied down with restrictions which tend to retard its development and keep it from employing more individuals."

"Given half a chance, free enterprise, which has given us the finest armies in the world, which has provided the hundreds and thousands of skilled workers for war industry, has given us luxuries and opportunities, the envy of the whole world, will again fill the little cottages, main streets and residential districts with telephones, radios, electrical appliances and every conceivable labor-saving device," said the speaker.

In closing, Mr. Bond stated that the attacks being levelled against free enterprise would not be easily overcome and that "it's going to take the full and sustained power of all advertising, and, because advertising never kept anything sold which did not stand up to that which was expected of it, it would be up to free enterprise to warrant and fulfill the confidence placed in it."

Gathering the Sport Facts

Back in 1930 and 1931, Toronto Maple Leafs had a young shortstop who literally set the league afire. In the two seasons he spent with the Leafs, before he went to the majors with the Detroit Tigers, this young shortstop batted .316 and .330, both excellent averages for an infielder. Perhaps you remember him. His name was Billy Rogell.

Rogell was born in Springfield, Illinois, the same small city where Abe Lincoln got his start in life. In a small way, Rogell has tried to follow in his footsteps. Perhaps it's the atmosphere of the place.

When Rogell first started to play ball in his early teens he got the benefit of coaching from two old-time professional ball players. They coached him along until he finally obtained a professional offer from a minor league club. From this minor beginning he rose until he reached the majors and stayed there for nine years.

Rogell never forgot the helpful hints he received when he was just breaking into the game. When his active career was finished in 1939, Billy Rogell was one of the most popular men on the Detroit roster. The next year he entered politics in his adopted home city and was successful in his campaign to become an alderman on the city council.

After he got settled in his new job, Rogell approached the other members of the city council about a baseball school for teenage youngsters. Billy Rogell started his first school in 1942. He received an appropriation of $8,500 from the city of Detroit to carry him over the season. Much of the money was spent to pay former big league players as instructors.

The plan, as conducted by Councilman Rogell, not only kept the boys from drifting around the streets and getting into mischief but it enabled a few of the boys to get ahead in the diamond sport. The system gives them the best coaching procurable and every opportunity to get into baseball as a profession. A few of them will advance high in the game.

A total of 6,100 boys have enrolled in Rogell's public playgrounds baseball school. He had 286 teams. Each team played twice a week. The city fathers of Detroit were skeptical of the plan at first. Now they consider the money well spent. They figure any city or small town in the country would be well advised to try Rogell's plan.

Any city could afford to invest money in its youth. Thousands of boys who idle away their summer days would find their time occupied with an activity that would improve their health, make them better citizens and maybe enable some boys to take up the game as a profession when they grow older. Any way a person looks at it, the venture is a worthwhile investment. Maybe another year someone in Newmarket will take up the idea and give the boys a chance they deserve.

POT POURRI

When I have several things to write about I fall back on the old-fashioned heading of "Pot Pourri," for Pot Pourri, as you know, contains quite a few ingredients! First, I want to mention last week's film, "Fantasia," one of Walt Disney's wonderful creations. It was indeed wonderful—in fact it was marvellous. How anyone's imagination can soar to such heights—and how on earth they ever achieve such results—is far and away beyond me. But I don't want to know how—I want just to sit back and enjoy the results! It was Walt Disney's interpretation of different selections of music which was meanwhile being rendered by a magnificent orchestra—with harp and bass viols thrown in for good measure.

And talk about technicolor! You never in your life saw or even imagined such a profusion of color! Such weird color too! I coined a new expression when someone asked me how I liked it. I said I was "color-blinded," and that was really the effect it had on me. But, for an outstanding picture, "Fantasia" surely is in the first class. You simply can't describe it.

I want also to tell about a few of the many delightful gardens—and Newmarket has many. From the splendid array up at our cemetery at the end of Main St. to the ends of the town in every direction there are flowers everywhere. Mrs. Arnold and Mr. Bosworth, as you come home from the cemetery, there the home of the Sisters on the corner of Ontario and Main. When you recall that place in former times—a mass of old lilac bushes with huge advertising signboards and look at it now, it is like the beauty spot our citizens have made of Memorial Park, the Waterworks Park, the Lions' Park and the Community Flag Pole Park.

We do not need to look far to see lovely gardens. I went to see the garden on the corner of John and Timothy St., the one the editor told about in a recent edition of the Era and Express. And it was a glad surprise. The gold fish surely enjoy their pretty lily pool and there were pink water lilies in bloom and flowers everywhere. Mr. Campbell, up on Prospect Ave., has some gorgeous tiger lilies. Mr. Wass on Tecumseh has a flower garden to the rear of his house that reaches to Millard Ave. and he certainly has a fine display. Every home you pass has trees or shrubs or flowers or all three.

From Park Ave. you can see across behind King George school to the rear of Miss Minnie Riley's house and see a train of bloom (perennial phlox particularly) and Mr. Phillips' garden next door. I walked down the curved road between Queen St. and Prospect Ave. the other day—Wellington St. I think it is called—and all the places there have grand gardens—flower and vegetable.

I came along the old Metropolitan track from Main St. to Raglan and saw the gardens behind all the houses along there and it was a picture. Now that the glads are in bloom you catch glimpses of color in all sorts of unexpected places. Now we have flowers all in among other things in our Victory gardens.

My mameake, the Golden Glow,

Equipment Is Scarce But Plants Still Need Water

(By Rudy Renzies, Newmarket Horticultural Society)

Many kinds of garden watering equipment are hard to get, but this shouldn't keep us from taking good care of the plants during a dry spell.

Water is more important to growing plants than any other food, because it has so many functions. It serves as a solvent for the minerals in the soil, acts as a nutrient itself, is a conveyor of all soluble materials produced by the plant or taken from the air and soil, and keeps the stems erect and the leaves full and smooth.

If a dry spell occurs in the growing period, watering has to take the place of rain. It is true that plants will only die in a most severe drought, but they are liable to grow stunted and poor.

Soak the ground around the plant and not the top of the plant. It is good practice to build a little wall of soil around the plant and fill this basin with water. One can take a small tin-can, put a small hole in the bottom with a nail and place it, filled with water, near the stem of the plant. It will slowly saturate ground and needs to be filled only once daily in very dry weather.

When watering with hose saturate the ground to a depth of five or six inches. If the ground is not soaked thoroughly there is the danger that the roots will grow up to the surface in which case dry weather will finish the plant.

APPRECIATION SHOWN TO BABCOOK FAMILY

About 70 members and friends of the Free Methodist church paid a surprise visit to the home of Rev. and Mrs. B. Babcock on Thursday evening to wish them goodspeed.

A paper was read by Herbert Gibbons expressing appreciation of the kindness and thoughtfulness shown by Mr. Babcock and his family during the past five years.

Walter Creed presented Mr. Babcock with a lovely hassock, and John Shier presented Mrs. Babcock with a fernery.

Clara Crowder read a paper and June Shier presented a photograph album.

Mrs. George Keay presented Rev. and Mrs. Babcock with a cash gift from the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Babcock expressed their appreciation of the kindness shown them in Newmarket by the church and the people of the town.

Mr. Babcock preached his farewell sermons on Sunday to good congregations both morning and evening.

A motorist, driving over a mountain road in the southern highlands, saw an old man standing by the roadside and sobbing as though his heart would break, so he pulled up and asked what was the matter.

"My puppy just gave me a lick-in," the old fellow replied.

"Where is your 'puppy'?" the motorist inquired.

"Over there, back of the barn."

So the motorist got out and walked to the barn, where he saw a still older man with a stout hickory switch in his hand.

"What do you mean by whipping that boy?" the tourist demanded.

"The only way I know to break 'him,'" said the father, "is 'him of cussin' his grandpappy."

Depot's Soccer Debut Is Better Than Score Says

In a well played game No. 3 armored corps soccer team defeated Aurora R.C.O.C. Depot 6-1 at Camp Borden Monday night.

The score was by no means indicative of the play, for the Depot boys were making their first start against a younger, faster team. Midfield play was about even, but in close the armored corps made few mistakes and goalie Dobson was given little chance on those that went by him.

No. 3 scored three times in the first half, while blanking their opponents, Rose, Pryor and Anstie doing the honors.

Heron, Detroit colored flash, Rose and Pryor were second-half marksmen, along with Wilf. White for Aurora.

Headlining the Aurora play was the work of Herbie Holman, Al. Dunstall and "Shorty" Heard. Dobson in goal made many fine stops.

After the game the entire visiting party was entertained at a high-class army dinner. The Aurora boys had played the game on empty stomachs. The two teams met in Aurora to-night and Staff. Cotton is satisfied his boys will make a much better showing.

No. 3: Watson, Heron, Anstie, Jennings, Todd, Woodsworth, Brown, Rank, Pryor, Rose, Bergson, Lynn.

Aurora: Dobson, Dunstall, Sunoski, Holman, Starkey, Mason, White, Heard, Conboy, Dunbar, Burke, Heenan, Farrow, Martin.

Referee: Lieut. C. A. Worrall. Linesmen: Bob Reise and Jeff Gleave.

Whitchurch Born, Dies At Daughter's Home

After an illness of 15 months, Mrs. Mary Ann Calloway died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Hope, Aurora, on Sept. 25.

Born in Whitchurch, Sept. 23, 1872, the daughter of John and Cinderella Neal, she married Aaron Morton Calloway, June 27, 1888. Her husband predeceased her in 1924.

Mrs. Calloway was a member of the Gospel church of Aurora.

Surviving are two sons, Carmel and Arnold, one daughter, Mrs. Norman Hope (Hazel), one brother, Thomas Neal, one sister, Mrs. A. Cole.

Rev. L. R. Coupland and Capt. Weir conducted the funeral service at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Hope, on Aug. 27.

The pallbearers were Arnold Calloway, Carmel Calloway, John Morton, Norman Hope, William Dunning and William Nesbitt.

BREAKS ARM

Ten-year-old Mary Rose, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Crawford Rose, broke an arm when she fell to the sidewalk while roller-skating.

taking his hair down and having a good cry.

Our own C.W.A.C. have been active not only in the realms of romance, but also on the fields of sport, betraying their all-round ability. On the evening of Aug. 21 the C.W.A.C. softball team tilted with the C.W.A.C. team from Stanley barracks, right here in Newmarket. The girls certainly redeemed themselves after having been rather severely mauled by S.B. on a previous occasion. Pte. Rice played as if inspired, in fact, the whole team was quite outstanding. The final score was 8-1 in our favor.

On the night of Aug. 26 the C.W.A.C. from the Ordnance Depot in Aurora tripped up to Newmarket, and met our girls in a game which proved both amusing and exciting. There were a number of errors, of course, but nothing to prevent our girls from bringing up a rather imposing score. Let it suffice to say that Aurora has a score to even when next they visit Newmarket.

On Aug. 27 Sgt.-Major Bowman took his soccer team down to Greenwood park to meet the East Enders, who are definitely of senior calibre. Despite the opposition, the camp team is by this time so well kicked into shape that it held the East Enders to a draw for a cup tie. Meaning that a replay will be conducted in Woodrow park in the near future.

Our softball team is in a strenuous struggle with Ostranders for play-off honors. The best of five is the goal in this fast baseball league, which our team has been more or less topping all season. We started off somewhat discouragingly, losing the first game by a score of 7-1, or thereabouts, on the evening of Aug. 25. However, Ostranders were held to a tie on the 27th, so it's expected the third game will go to Newmarket. We're all rooting for Exelby's gang in any case, and may the best men (Newmarket) win!

"Lightning Bill" Boaks Strikes Same Place Again

They say lightning never strikes in the same place twice, but when it comes to golf it's another story. William ("Bill") Boaks, ace golfer of the Aurora Golf club, annexed last week the club championship by defeating Lorne C. Lee in the final scratch match nine up and seven to play. It was Mr. Boaks' eighth victory in nine tries for the Aemilius Jarvis shield, which has been in competition 12 years.

He won the trophy first in 1934 and repeated the feat on five occasions, before another name graced the trophy. In 1941 he failed to compete, Bill Cross taking the honors. Last year he won again to start his record all over.

His path to the '43 crown was no sinecure, as he ousted such sturdy performers on the links as Herman Gilroy, Newmarket, Bill West and Keith Nisbet in the preliminary and semi-final rounds. Against Nisbet, Boaks toured 18 holes in a nifty 74.

Gained Matriculation In Spring, Drowned In Pond

George Douglas Cairns was drowned Monday evening in a small artificial lake on Foxley Green farm, Wellington St., west of Aurora, while swimming with a companion. It is believed they were out on a raft and that Cairns slipped from it into deep water. Neither of the boys could swim very well.

The companion made an attempt to reach him, but could not do so in the deep water. He summoned help immediately. The body was not recovered until two hours later by lowering the level of the lake.

Dr. Crawford Rose and Dr. J. L. Urquhart of Aurora applied artificial respiration. Coroner Dr. C. J. Devins pronounced the boy dead. County Constable Aubrey Fleury investigated.

George Douglas Cairns, the son of Mrs. Hilda Mitchell, R. R. 3, King, was in his 18th year, and had attended Aurora high school. Having completed his matriculation this spring he had intended going to university this fall.

First Soccer Game Tires Teams, Referee, Ends In Tie

The Ordnance soccer team opened the season against an all-star town team called Sisman's last Thursday night at the town park and the Depot boys and the Sisman 11 battled into the darkness to a 2-2 tie. The plant team scored first with Wilf. White doing the honors, but their lead was short-lived as Gar Doolittle tied it up.

In the second half "Shorty" Heard put the khaki squad one up only to have Phil Fingold tie the score towards the end of the game.

Both teams were dead tired from their initial effort and Referee Staff Cotton was too.

Among the former Aurora players in action were Chief Fisher Dunham, Herb. Holman, Harry Squibb and "Shorty" Heard. Dick Reise in goal for the Sisman team played a strong game and Bob Dobson at the other end was good. Ritchie and Burke were outstanding for Depot.

R.C.O.C.: Dobson, Lieut. A. J. Badley, Al. Dunstall, Conboy, Walt. Starkey, Bob Ritchie, White, Heard, Dunbar, Burke, Furren and Sunoski.

Sisman's: Dick Reise, Dunham, Harvey Fingold, Gar Doolittle, Harry Sutton, Gilchrist, Squibbs, G. Doolittle, L. Doolittle, P. Fingold, Holman.

R.C.O.C. Girls Are Defeated By C.W.A.C.'s

Aurora R.C.O.C. girl softballers journeyed to Newmarket to meet the C.W.A.C. from that centre last Thursday evening. The Newmarket girls, with several games in hand, were away to an early start, from which the Aurora team never recovered, although they went down with colors flying.

The final score was 15-10 in favor of the Newmarket girls. Rule and Locke formed the Aurora battery. A series of games between the two teams will be played before the season is over.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Overseas arrivals in recent weeks included several well-known North York athletes. George Stong, a member of the R.C.O.C. and former Richmond Hill softball speed artist, has reached Blighty safely. Last year George was stationed at London for the championship Chatham camp team.

Ren Brown, another Hill star who had no peer at the redlight corner in softball in these parts and a powerhouse hitter, is now an overseas technician with the molar corps. He was stationed previously with "the dents" at Jarvis R.C.A.F. station. He played star ball for Queen's Yorks at Niagara camp two years ago.

John Koning, better known to the public as "Jake, the umpire," was another arrival. Koning, who was about the tallest arbiter ever to perform for the York-Simcoe loop, is now an officer. Richmond Hill is his native heath.

The love-bug has been biting hard the past few months. The newly-married include Harold Echlin, former ace catcher of the district, Wes. Botham, Bradford, former hockey player, and "Tubby" Barrow, ex-Richmond Hill and Aurora junior.

Echlin, who is with the R.C.A.F., is an LAC now and is doing ground crew duty in Ontario. His bride was Peggy Lowry of Toronto. With the exception of Charlie VanZant of Newmarket, "Ekky," who did all his playing for Richmond Hill, had no superior. He was chosen as a member of our first all-star softball team.

Botham, who is on duty in Newfoundland, was married to Vera Sell of Wheatley, Ont., and Barrow and his bride, Mary Short of Toronto, go to Winnipeg, Man., for the ceremony. Neither boy was a hockey star but both were good durable performers. In most military establishments almost daily part two orders either record permission to marry or the actual marriage of some of the boys in the service.

Bowling has had and is still having a pretty good year in the district. Gar. Yerex and Morley Hall of Richmond Hill have won the doubles honors and will be in Hamilton on Labor Day seeking provincial honors. The Hill bowlers and Markham are fighting it out for foursome honors. Newmarket has enjoyed a splendid season, but in Aurora the game appears to be dying down, at a time when it should be really flourishing. No clubs in the district have better comradeship than the rose-town and canal-town clubs, and that is what really makes for a successful club.

Bill Clark, who a few years ago pitched hardball for Stouffville and played about every other position on the team, is still performing nobly. He is at Galt now and was hailed out of retirement this year to fill a vacancy at third base on the Terrier line-up. Last year he spent all his spare time organizing and coaching minor baseball, and his playing ability was noted.

Neil Smith, another former Stouffville player and well-known throughout North York, has been promoted to the rank of major overseas. "Doc," who practised dentistry in Stouffville, was a great booster for ball. He went overseas two years ago and is, we understand, stationed in Northern Ireland. He is now married to an Irish girl. So he has had two promotions since leaving Canada.

George Lang, who ten years ago played junior lacrosse for Aurora and played both hockey and lacrosse for Bradford, is presently stationed at Camp Borden but hopes to leave for overseas soon. A clean-cut, game boy, George looks the picture of health. His father kept hotel at Bradford and moved from the district about six years ago. George has since lived at Lansing, Port Dover and Toronto. With both Ernie James and Don Wilson on active service, all three Bradford boys who played for Aurora are in the present struggle.

Honor award of the summer will go to Grant Nighswander, former secretary of Markham junior hockey, now a school-teacher at Richmond Hill, and the Lions club of that village, who have set a real example in child welfare work, and the development of clean sport. All summer, five days a week, the kids of the village have gathered in the fair grounds for supervised play. A hardball team was developed, softball, volleyball, track and field were started. It was mostly for boys but the girls came too. Culminating the season a gala field day and picnic were held recently with a big-league atmosphere about it.

A band from Toronto, civic dignitaries and outside competition gave the youngsters a real thrill. Emphasis all season was placed on the team rather than the individual, and the meet was carried out that way. Teams were present from Langstaff, Markham, Unionville, Orange orphange and Trinity K club of Toronto. The home town kids won both the championships for boys and girls, with Trinity K furnishing the main opposition. There were prizes on a moderate scale for the winners too. Makes bigger places like Aurora and Newmarket seem a little behind times when you see what has been accomplished in the Hill.

"Goose" Hewson, former Bradford and Oshawa junior, and Army Dagger hockey player, is now located at Newmarket camp and was a member of the town league hardball champions. Hewson is also good at softball. Despite all the rumors you hear, you can pretty well figure out the boys from No. 23 B.T.C. will be ready for action when winter time comes and Stan Smith's ice palace opens.

Jimmy Holmes, who a few weeks ago was the ace track man at Newmarket camp, is now at Borden and has arrived just in time for the armored corps track championships, which will be decided on Sept. 5. Holmes, who is at present a lance-corporal, is in the P.O.M. class and is a fine lad. He won the army century dash with ease and should add to his laurels at Borden. Has been credited with a ten-second performance for the 100 yards. Runs a good furlong too.

Ken Guilfoyle, who has been on the softball scene for quite a few years, like most of the former Barrie-Alandale players, is still going strong. Guilfoyle was the star of the famous Roxy Aces and he and Alex, ("the Great") Webster engaged in some stirring battles. In the golden era of York-Simcoe softball, Guilfoyle was a regular cannonball on the mound, and when he wound up he looked like a human pretzel. He also talked a good game. Later he went to the States, where for some years he was a member of the famous North Carolina Spinners, pitching several no-hitters and generally setting the world on fire. When he came back to Canada he had gone back hardy at all and Barrie and Collingwood became the scene of his operations.

We met Ken the other night in Collingwood, where he is pitching for Clyde Altrcraft. Collingwood is currently in the O.A.S.A. playoffs and plays the Simcoe Flyers in the first round. It is prevented a clash between our black beret softballers and the war workers team. Incidentally, we still have our fingers crossed for softball. In three successive nights the boys from No. 3 have downed A11 (Infantry), A33 and A10 (Infantry), in army playdowns and north zone schedule games at Borden. This A10 team is the one that held Navy to a 1-0 score at Newmarket camps big sports day and is plenty good. The score was 3-0 for our boys.

Ivan Gracey, another Barrie pitcher of more than passing ability, is pitching for Copaces in the Centre Simcoe loop. Gracey is a southpaw and plays well at every position on the diamond. The packers have Earl Marshall at third base, Ab. Bowen in left field, and have hauled out of retirement, for action behind the plate, the veteran Jimmy Johnston from Stroud, who played against Newmarket for Alandale Imperials.

Steve Hines, Charlie Miles, George Miles, and Mont. Norman Hooper, former Barrie sports writer, are team-mates of Wes. Perry in the same circuit with the Harmony team.

"Paddy" Miles and the veteran Ellsworth Crawford are the play-off umpires for the league. Paddy was one of the best ever to perform in local softball, while only a few years back Crawford, at an age when most fellows have gone into the limbo, was still doing a swell job behind the bat for the Midhurst Foresters. Perry in the last league game of the season whiffed no fewer than 13 batters. Met Bert Hedges, the well-known hockey referee, in Toronto on Friday. Bert looks for some fine service senior puck-chasing this winter as well as good mercurial hockey but rightly enough is dubious about civilian entries, and with the army age lowered believes juvenile hockey will more generally replace the junior series. He is turning near Weston these days, not far from our old friend, Charlie Rowntree. Believes that military authorities will put a clamp down on the package of teams as in other years, and likewise the R.C.A.F. There will be plenty of hockey but the personnel will change more rapidly this winter as the war tempo is stepped up.

In the Aleutians, according to latest dispatches, are Spr. Jack Church, R.C.E., member of the well-known Bradford lacrosse-hockey club, and Wilson ("Mickey") MacMain, former Aurora town league softball. "Mick" is a lance-jack now.

Bruce McDonald of Thornhill, who played stand-out soccer for Richmond Hill high and was good at hockey and track too, is now a flying officer with the R.C.A.F. at an Ontario centre. He was at his peak as a player in the middle twenties and could both boot a ball and hand out a neat body-check.

Newmarket camp footballers turned in a fine performance last week to the Toronto East End in a city cup game. At weekend Capt. Tom George's boys had a 15-point total in section B. T and D to hold fourth place. Understand there is no play-off series in the soccer league, except for the top two teams in each group. Next week Aurora Ordnance Depot team will play Newmarket, and it should be only a breeze for the Harkness boys.

"Shrimp" McDougall died last week in his middle thirties at Peterboro. Newmarket fans will remember him as a member of the famous Owen Sound Greys junior hockey club which defeated Newmarket Juniors 7-3 on the round in 1927. His correct name was Harold but he was always called "Shrimp." He played professional briefly and later was with Walker-ton.

Agincourt pulled the surprise of the season by downing Unionville in a best-of-three series to win the Markham softball league and the right to meet Richmond Hill. The Unionville boys looked much the best all season and with a line-up of G. Kennedy, C. Chas. Blandell, Ben. Gayman, B. Bill Hood, B. Leon, McMullen, B. Jack Watson, and Allen, Trunk, Blandell and Cochrane for the outfield looked easy winners on paper, but that was all, as lady luck flirted with Agincourt and finally parked on their bench.

First blood of the inter-league play-offs went to Richmond Hill on Friday night, as they toyed with the Agincourt boys to record a 14-3 win. Teddy Bennett was on the mound and fanned 14 over a seven-inning stretch. By this time the Hill should be home free and ready for further action if it can be found. Manager Charlie Ryan at last report was hopeful of getting an O.A.S.A. play-off berth.

Ordnance softballers have quit for the season. Suitable reinforcements were not forthcoming and, in addition, scheduled to depart to another Canadian centre are such stalwarts as "Joel" McComb, "Bummy" Glover, Briggs Creighton and Norm. Goodhead.

Hockey? With those fellows leaving, you can well raise your eyebrows and ask about the Aurora hockey situation. Well, come what may, according to the latest news along the grapevine, Ordnance will defend its O.H.A. honors this season in the Aurora arena, and is fairly confident of having some players.

Rumor has it that Mrs. Jack Graham, who as Alma ("Jimmy") Goulding a few years back was a star softball player for Aurora and Oakwood and Toronto Ladies in Toronto, will try a comeback with the Aurora Depot team. At least she has been out practising with the local girls and according to all reports can still throw them over plenty fast. We seriously doubt if she'll play but one thing she can do is to lend some words of wisdom to the Depot femmes, who, while willing and possessing quite a bit of natural talent, require some savor fairs on the diamond. Several other Aurora girl stars of other days are also said to be looking with envy at the big mush-ball and pondering whether or not to take a bit of exercise. A really attractive charity game that would pack the park would be to send the Ordnance girls against a team of former Aurora stars, and, as we look over the roster of other days, we opine there is plenty of talent available. We won't mention names either.

Sporting gesture of recent days came from No. 23 B.T.C. Newmarket. Learning Aurora R.C.O.C. boys could not buy sufficient soccer boots to field a team or obtain them anywhere, the camp sports office looked over their equipment and decided there were 15 pairs quite the worse for wear but that might be repaired and certainly were going to waste. They offered these to the depot boys, who were overjoyed at the chance to get them, and it was only a matter of hours until the Aurora cobbler had the boots ready for action, and, to quote one of the players, "nearly as good as new."

The same idea can well be carried out all over the district. There is plenty of sports equip-

English Babies Suffer
As Result Of Bombing

The following interesting letter was received by the Newmarket Women's Institute from Mrs. B. E. Bradshaw, of the Anglo-American Relief Fund in England.

"I was sent two days ago, a consignment of jam by our good friends, the British war relief society, and some of the tins bore your name.

"I feel I would like to send you a line of personal thanks for them. This is a large convalescent nursery for babies from bombed areas. All are under five and all have been ill, either directly, or indirectly the result of bombing. Some are actual casualties, others are nerves, and we also have a great many chest cases, due to shelter life.
One child has had pneumonia four times, due to spending all his nights in a shelter under a steam laundry, and his days going from that damp heat to his own home which has lost all its doors and windows.

"We receive most of these children looking pretty awful, but as we keep them for a year or more, if necessary, we really can see the result of our work, and believe me it is very satisfactory. But I do so wish that all our wonderful Canadian friends could see them too, before and after, as it would make you realize, far better than I can ever hope to express, how great is our debt of gratitude to you, and how much your generosity is rewarded by results.

"Thank you once again. I can assure you your kindness is not only fully appreciated by the actual recipients themselves, but also by all of us who work with these poor little things, who have been subjected to so early an age to modern warfare in its worst form."

day with Mr. and Mrs. C. Mid-gley and family of Zephyr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longhurst and Edythe, Toronto, spent Sun-hurst.

YOUR EYES MUST LAST A LIFETIME

... the only eyes you will ever have cannot be expected to maintain their youthful efficiency without a reasonable amount of attention. With the years, eyes grow older, usually changing so gradually that you do not notice the difference.

Only a professional eye examination can accurately tell the condition of your eyesight. If you have never had your eyes examined, or if they have not been examined within the last two years, it would be wise to find out how efficient they are... now.

CORECTAL
LENSES

When you have your eyes examined, enquire about CORECTAL precision lenses. They give you wide-angle vision, are clear to the very edge.

MOUNT ALBERT ENGLISH NEPHEW IS JAPANESE PRISONER

Mrs. Geo. Calver sent an air-mail letter on Aug. 12 to her son, Frank, on service in England, and on Aug. 26 received an answer, also air-mail. This speaks well for the postal facilities.

Soldier Is In Kiska

Pte. Geoffrey Calver is with the Rocky Mountain Rangers in Kiska.

Sgt. Leonard Calver, Royal Norfolk regiment, British army, is a prisoner of the Japanese, according to word received by his uncle, Geo. Calver. He was missing 12 months after Singapore fell before word was received by his parents in England.

May Calver, Oshawa, was home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thirk, Toronto, have been visiting Mrs. Thirk's brother, Mr. Chas. Scott.

Mrs. Ethel Jarvis, Aurora, and Mr. and Mrs. Alto Davison and Caleb, Cookstown, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr.

LAC Baine, Mrs. Baine, Betty and Lorraine, Brantford, are spending a few days with Mrs. Baine's sister, Mrs. W. Draper.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lyons and Karen, Scarboro, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Draper and Diane, Mrs. Boynton and Mr. and Mrs. R. Lemon, Toronto, called on Mr. and Mrs. W. Draper on Sunday.

Porcupine Visits Town

The people around the corner of King and Main Sts. got rather excited one day last week when a young porcupine came in their midst.

The public school is revealing the work the pupils and teachers have been doing in trying to beautify the grounds with small evergreens and petunias, which make a lovely bed along the walk.

Mount Albert cemetery also has some lovely plots of petunias, which are worth going up to see and the cemetery in general looks nice, considering the shortage of labor this year.

POLICE COURT Two Good Instructors Sent To Reformatory

In York county police court held here on Tuesday, Magistrate W. N. Robinson sentenced Pte. Regina Stott, Camp Borden, 12 months, indefinite and six months, indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory on a charge of breaking and entering the service station of Fergus Taylor, Eagle St., Newmarket, on July 23.

Pte. Edward Chassie, also of Camp Borden, who was jointly charged with Pte. Stott, was sentenced to six months, definite and six months, indefinite at the Ontario Reformatory.

Pte. Stott was found guilty on two other counts, receiving stolen goods and obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty, and for each offence he received a sentence of six months in the reformatory, the sentences to run concurrently with that for the breaking and entering.

A charge against the pair of receiving stolen goods was withdrawn with the consent of Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., and a charge of stealing a car was dismissed. To every charge the accused men pleaded not guilty.

Testifying in the charge against the two men of theft of a car, Mrs. Mildred Miller, Aurora, told his worship that she had left her car parked in front of her home on Wellington St. in Aurora on July 23, and when she went to find it the following morning it was gone. She said that when she next saw the car at the Islington police station a few days later it was badly damaged and oil was spilled over the trunk.

According to Constable J. Gwilliams, of Etobicoke township, at 4:05 a.m. on July 25, while patrolling Hunter Blvd., the headlights of his car shone on the number of a car hidden in the bushes at the side of the road and upon investigating he found the defendants sleeping on a blanket in the bushes nearby. The officer stated that he questioned them and they told him that they were on leave from camp and did not have enough money to go to a hotel for the night.

"They said that they didn't know anything about the car," testified the officer. "Stott said that maybe some couple in the vicinity might own it but I didn't see anyone about."

The officer went on to say that upon looking into the car he noticed a screwdriver and a gasoline pump and concluded that the car was stolen. He said that he told the defendants to get into his car, as he wished to take them to the police station for questioning. He asked Pte. Stott to drive the car and Pte. Chassie to get in beside him. As he was about to get into the rear seat, Pte. Stott, grabbed him about the shoulders and a scuffle ensued, he said.

The witness stated that when he checked on the license plates of the car he found that they had been issued to Pte. Stott.

Questioned by Capt. J. S. Kilgour, Camp Borden, counsel for the defence, the witness said that when he asked Stott about the license plates the following morning, the latter told him that he had seen the stolen car standing on Dove St. in Camp Borden and knew it to be stolen, but had put the plates from his own car on in order to drive it to Toronto.

Called to the stand, County Constable Aubrey Fleury, Whitechurch, testified that he and Constable Martindale had interviewed, at the Don Jail, on July 26, the two defendants, who after first being cautioned, stated that they had come across the stolen car, damaged and without license plates on Dove Rd. in Camp Borden. They put the license plates from Pte. Stott's car on this car.

Chief Constable James Sloss of Newmarket told his worship that he interviewed the two men in Newmarket police station on Aug. 3 and that Pte. Chassie had admitted to say that Pte. Stott admitted transferring the plates from his car to the stolen car.

Tpr. V. C. Henderson, Camp Borden, stated that he was a passenger in the car driven by Pte. Stott to Toronto on July 21 and that he had noticed the ignition wires pulled down. He said that the car that Pte. Chassie was driving ran out of gas near Toronto and their car pushed it to the gas station.

In reply to queries of the defence the witness stated that Pte. Chassie slept in the same hut as he did, but that on the night of the alleged theft he could not remember whether or not the defendant was in camp.

Pte. Stott denied that he had been absent from camp on July 23 or in Newmarket. He said that while on the way to the ordnance room he noticed the car and looked inside.

"I saw the ignition wires hanging down," he stated. "I wanted to go to Toronto and thought if I could start the car I could go to Toronto. My car was broken down. I took the license plates off my car and put them on the other car. I picked up a couple of fellows on the way to Toronto. I came across Chassie in his car. He ran out of gas and I pushed him to the gas station. Later, while driving up St. Clair Ave., I saw Chassie's car parked at the corner of Lansdowne with its back wheel off."

The defendant stated that when he next saw Pte. Chassie the latter was "drunk."

Asked by Capt. Kilgour whether Pte. Chassie knew where he had obtained the car, Pte. Stott stated: "He didn't ask me where I got it and I didn't tell him."

On the stand Pte. Chassie also denied that he had been in Aurora or Newmarket on July 23 and said that he did not see the car in question until he saw Pte. Stott driving it on the highway the following day.

"Did you have any suspicions about the car he was driving being stolen?" asked Mr. Kilgour.

"No, I didn't ask any questions," replied the defendant. "If I had any, he might have borrowed it."

Cross-examined by the crown, Pte. Chassie admitted signing the statement which was read by Constable Fleury but said that he did so, as at the time he felt that "both of us were in the thing together." He denied seeing the three

Every year college deans pop the routine questions to their undergraduates: "Why did you come to college?"

Traditionally the answers match the questions in triteness. But last year one University of Arizona girl unexpectedly confided:

"I came to be with—but I ain't yet!"

It costs only 25 cents (if paid in a week) to tell thousands of people about that article you do not need.

and other articles in the rear of the car, adding that he was under the influence of liquor when picked up by Pte. Stott after his (Chassie's) car broke down.

"There isn't the slightest evidence that these men stole that car in Aurora," stated his worship, dismissing the charge of theft against both men.

The charge of receiving stolen goods, there is no question of Stott's connection with the car," stated Capt. Kilgour. "He admits that he knew it was stolen. In regard to Chassie, I don't think that he did know. The statement is inconsistent. In it he says, 'We decided to drive to Toronto.' Actually Chassie did not go in that car. He has his own. I don't think he was connected with the car until he got to Toronto."

"Yes, there will be a conviction against Stott," commented Magistrate Robinson. "The charge against Chassie will be dismissed."

His worship also registered a conviction against Pte. Stott on a charge of assault. Pte. Stott stated: "I don't know what happened. I just got a crazy notion to grab him. We wrestled around."

Testifying in the breaking and entering charge, Fergus Taylor, Newmarket, told his worship that his service station on Eagle St., Newmarket, had been entered some time during the evening of July 23 and the morning of July 24, and four tires, seven quarts of oil, two batteries, and a pair of binoculars had been stolen. He said that entry was made through a window at the rear of the station. He identified articles taken from the car which had been in the defendant's possession as belonging to him.

Recalled to the stand, Constable Gwilliams stated that, besides the screwdriver and gasoline pump found in the stolen car, he found four tires, two batteries and four quarts of oil in the trunk of the car.

On the stand, Miss Ruth Mosier, Newmarket, identified the two defendants as two of a number who passed her and some other girls in a car on Main St., Newmarket, on the evening of July 23 and asked them to go for a ride to Wasaga Beach. She said that they said they were on furlough. She and the other girls refused the invitation.

"I haven't the slightest hesitation in making a conviction in this case," stated Magistrate Robinson. The crown informed his worship that Pte. Stott had previously been convicted on a charge of car theft and served a prison term.

"It is unfortunate that two men who have made good soldiers and instructors, men whom it has cost the country a great deal of money to make good soldiers, have got to get into trouble like this," said Magistrate Robinson. "As far as Stott is concerned, you can't keep out of trouble. A man of as good an appearance as you, it is too bad that you have to get into trouble. I have been informed that you are valuable instructors and I am assured that if leniency is shown you will be sent over with the first group going over. I am going to leave it up to the parole board. Any representation made on account of your good record soldiers can be made to that board."

Finding Leonard McCauley, 21 Hepburn Ave., Toronto, guilty on a charge of dangerous driving, Magistrate Robinson fined him $10 and costs of $12 or 15 days in jail.

According to County Constable William Hill, on Aug. 15 he overtook a car driven by the defendant in a zig-zag manner on the highway half a mile east of Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe. He stated that previous to this the defendant had driven through a stop street at Jackson's Point. The officer said that Mr. McCauley smelled of liquor and was unsteady on his feet.

Found guilty on a charge of careless driving in Vaughan township, Edward J. Young, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs. Provincial Constable Alex. Reaguis, stated that the defendant was driving with two people riding on the running board of the car, one on each side, for a distance of three and a half miles.

Magistrate Robinson imposed a fine of $25 and costs on A. G. Guthrie, Galt, when he found him guilty of exceeding the speed limit in East Gwillimbury. Constable Gordon Ronald Watt, fined Mr. Guthrie travelling at 50 miles an hour.

"Traffic violators whom his worship fined $15 and costs were: Allan Wayne Smith, Milton, who was fined on Yonge St. by Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson, Ron Goldberg, Toronto, who was fined in North Gwillimbury by Constable Carl Morton, Donald McElm, Hurvey White and Co., Alex. Boyle and Thomas A. Ferguson, all of Toronto, each fined by County Constable William Hill of North Gwillimbury, William Kucharski, Milton, Jucosky and Wilfred Ludlan, all of Toronto, each fined by Constable Watt.

A $10 fine was imposed on Sidney C. Brown, Toronto, who was fined by Constable Hill exceeding the speed limit in North Gwillimbury.

H. Milton Cole and Harold M. Turner, both of Toronto, received fines of $7 and costs each. Both offenders were fined by Constable Alex. McCullum in North Gwillimbury. Fergus Hunt, Toronto, also fined by Con. McCullum, was fined $5 and costs.

Constable Kenneth Mount, Newmarket, fined Arthur H. Hart, Ottawa, and Annette Julia, Toronto, exceeding the speed limit in Newmarket. Con. McCullum in North Gwillimbury, fined $4 and costs.

For attempting to pass another car on Yonge St. when the highway was not clear of traffic, James Hanley, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs.

QUEENSVILLE Gas Rationed, Boys Are Scarce For Choir Picnic

A picnic of young and older children from the junior choir was held at Jersey River on Thursday. Since gasoline was scarce and rationed the young people went and came back by bus.

Although there are 36 members, only 17 turned out for the picnic. Among the 17 were only two boys, Douglas Smith and Wesley Morton.

Mrs. J. L. Smith, the leader, and Mrs. G. H. Wilmet, the president's mother, were there to help supervise the children.

Each one took his own lunch and supper. Part of the afternoon was spent in swimming and games.

The United church service was well attended last Sunday. Rev. R. R. McMath of Newmarket delivered an inspiring sermon.

Solos were given by Miss Lois Geer and Charles Boyd, both of Newmarket.

Sunday, Sept. 5, Rev. Hugh Shannon, the minister, will be in charge of the services.

Raise $30 At Corn Roast

The corn roast given by the Red Cross at the school grounds was quite successful considering the cold night.

Owing to the weather, the entertainment was held in the school, where Harvey Miller and his orchestra made things lively for a short time. Terry Doane led in a sing-song. Proceeds were around $30.

A page-boy passed through the lobby of the exclusive hotel.

"Young man," remonstrated the manager sternly, "you should know that it is against the rules of this hotel for an employee to whistle while on duty."

"I'm not whistling, sir," replied the boy. "I'm paging somebody's dog."
